GOOD NEWS ABOUT NEW RAILROAD IMMINENT

Things Doing Tonight.

Order of Eastern Star meets. Reception at Baptist church for Rev. P. W. Longfellow.

Politics.

THE festive politician is a curious critter; though a knife he carries, with thoughts so dark and bitter, he smiles upon his enemy and looks ingratiating, although the other's blood is thirst will soon be satiating; now teeter-totter with henchmen, mysterious words he mutters, you crane your neck and listen but catch no word he utters, he rises in convention and distresses eloquence, and manipulates his arms and legs in manner quite unbecoming, to the slow witted patriot, so fervently anxious, and says much to the go-between, who follows at his heels; he invokes the Star Eyed Goddess and then grim behind his back, as the gangster and the graftor, he flays upon the rack, he denounces and pronounces, and righteous indignation fairly seethes and sputters at the grave state of the nation; he issues stern defiance or asks for harmony, and that he wants good government, 'tis very plain to see. Amid the wild tumulting, we gather in the din, that it's just the ins would stay there, and the outs would fain get in.

IRRIGATION MEET IS BIGGEST EVER SAYS SNOW

Col. Hopewell Receives Highly Optimistic Letter From Chairman of Utah Board of Control At Salt Lake.

Col. Hopewell, board of governors of the National Irrigation congress, is in receipt of a message from George A. Snow, chairman Utah board of control, advising him that the Twentieth congressional session to be held at Salt Lake City September 26 to October 3, is an assured success and promises to be the most interesting and important with the largest attendance since the congress was organized.

An impressive program has been provided and many of the ablest men in the land will be present to discuss the various and subjects that will come before the congress. Prominent among these subjects are: "Irrigation of the Great West," "Storage of the Floods," "Measurement of Streams," "Scientific Investigation of Irrigation Projects," "Proper Safeguarding of Irrigation Securities," "Enactment of Practical Working and Uniform State Irrigation Laws," "Preservation of the Forests," "Opportunity to Build New Homes," "Heeding the Call of the Landless Men for the Manifest Land," "Elimination by Law of Fraud in Connection With the Location and Sales of Land," "Cooperative Effort of Government and State Irrigation Officials," "Close Cooperation of State Engineers."

While these subjects cover generally the scope of the congress program, other matters of general interest by way of agricultural development will arise and discussion will be free and open to all.

Salt Lake, the host city for the Twentieth congress, has made extensive preparations for the entertainment and accommodation of delegations and guests. The greatest electric parade ever held in the intermountain west will occur Monday night, September 26, while a mammoth exhibit of the products of irrigated farms will be made in connection with the Utah state fair, which will be in progress during the congress.
